A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Plerce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherry-bark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomech, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine lacts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and sprength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure you sumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe obstinate, hang-on, chronic coughs, bronchia and intryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-on coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most In all cases where there is a wasting lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Ben-nett Med. College, Chicago, says of glycerine:

"In dyspepsia itserves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach), it is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

"Goiden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrotulous swellings and old screen

or ulcers

BATTLING NELSON DEFEATED. His face battered to a pulp, his eyes closed, covered with blood and staggering helplessly about the ring, Battling Nelson, conqueror of Joe Gans, was saved from a knockout in the fortieth round of the unequal contest. Nelson, game to the last, stood in the allowed to continue. He was led to his corner heartbroken. In the opposite corner of the ring the new lightweight champion of the world, Ad Wolgast, of Oadillac, Mich., was litted to the shoulders of his trainers, while the big crowd cheered.

Only once did Nelson have a chanca. In the twenty-second round with a stinging right across to the jaw he steggered Wolgast and before the round closed he dropped Wolgast in the middle of the ring with a similar blow. Three seconds were tolled before Wolgast regained his feet. The crowd prepared to leave the arena as the word went from beach to bench that another boy had fallen victim to the wonderful durability of the Dane. But in the next round Wolgast recuperated and from then slowly but surely wore Nelson down.

For twelve raunds before the finish Nelson seemed newildered and his blows were delivered as though his arms were stiff. From the thirtleth round Nelson culd hardly see or hear.

Wolgast outgeneralded, cutboxed and all but outgamed Nelson. After the fight Wolgast scampered cut of the ring like s school boy and galloped though the mud to his training room. Nelson was taken out on the arms of his seconds. As he cheered for the grit and gameness he had displayed.

SEYLER'S STATEMENT. Jane Adams, the young girl whose in an elec- City on the morning of February 18, turtric flat iron | bled over the rail of the million-dollar on 30 days pier into the ocean while backing away from William Seyler during a quarrel, according to the statement of the man card will made to the police Monday night. Although Seyler refuses absolutely to admit that he was attempting to assault the girl when she met her tragic death the police still hold to this theory, and are working to establish a case that will warrant them in holding Seyler for murder. Under the New Jersey laws, attempt at assault which results in death of the victim is considered narder, and this law will be invoked by County Prosecutor Goldenberg in his effort to hold Seyler for indictment and trial.

The substance of Seyler's confession made public by the police yesterday is to the effect that the girl met her death by accident. Seyler declares that he saw her back toward the railing and suddenly tumble backward into the ocean. The man declares that he hurried down the ladder leading to the water's edge in the hope of grabbing the girl, but that she never came up.

The man insisted that he had no in tention of assaulting the girl, but has made no satisfactory statement regarding the cause of the quarrel that led her to run from him.

"I never intended to harm Jane Adams," he declared after the polic had broken down his nerve and impressed him with the necessity of explaining his part in the tragedy. "Jane backed away toward the railing and the next minute I saw her fall. She screamed as she went over the rail and I ran for the ladder intending to jump overboard if necessary, but she sank like a stone and never saw her again."

The spot pointed out by Seyler as the place where the tragedy occurred is directly over the boat landing of the pier where the police found what they believe to be blood stains. Eayler also joins with the police in the theory that the girl's body strack the landing in its fall, causing the terrible bruising of her face and the deep scar over her eye, which surgeons declare to have been enough to have caused her death.

The remainder of Seyler's statement deals with his fright when he discovered that the girl had gone to her death and that he would probably be connected with the sfiair. "I went home to think it over," he said. "Bu; when Mrs Adams came over to the house and accused me of making away with ber daughter I lost my nerve and beat it."

JAPAN AND THE PACIFIC.

The great need of the United States for a merchant marine was told by Leslie M. Shaw, former scoretary of the treasury, in an address before the Washington Association in New Jersey, at its aunual meeting held in the L fayet a rooms at Morristown, N. J., yesterday afternoon.

"Japan purposes to dominate the Pacific or make it run red," he said. There have never yet been causes of war between the two countries, which do not exist between this country and GAZETTE BUILDING, 310 & 312 PRINCE

THE PHILADELPHIA RIOTS.

Market street, Philadelphia's busiest thoroughfare, was packed with crowds his fight with Ad Wolgast in the Arena from the City Hall to the Delaware river all of yesterday, and riot calls were sent in every few minutes. Fifteen policemen had a narrow escape from center of the ring, and, though he could death as a corner of a car barn was hardly raise his hands, begged to be wrecked by dynamite. A mob stormed a trolley car containing twelve prisoners and policemen, two of the prisoners escaping. An unknown man was pushed under a wagon and killed by rioters attacking cars at Market and Fourth streets. John Hughes, W. E. Collins and John Walter Stab, youths, were shot by policemen who were defending a

There are lawyers who practice law and make a lot of fuss, But it is law, not lawyers, that practices on us.

The law of necessity is everywhere as through this life we plod,
But we do not feel its pressure like the man who carries a hod.

Immutable law, "by the sweat of the brow man shall eat his bread,"

And we are not at all sure man is free from law even when he is dead.

The law of the living is hustle and strive so we experty onward press.
